

Eclisse Sliding Door Systems

Sliding Pocket Door Systems for Hoist installations

An industry first!

It seems impossible, but the engineers at Eclisse have developed a sliding pocket door that allows the use of a hoist running track that goes through the sliding system itself.

This is the answer to creating more space and increasing manoeuvrability which is absolutely crucial when using a hoist.

Using an Eclisse sliding pocket door system is the modern way to use all the space available to best advantage facilitating the easy opening and passage through doors.

Another important advantage is that no threshold is needed between the rooms, continual floor surfaces make life easier.

It's so much easier with Eclisse.
